DAVID W. LURVEY

BIOGRAPHY

David Lurvey is a principal and co-founder of Lurvey White Ventures, a firm in Flint, Michigan, specializing in real estate development and management. He has 18 years of experience in design, construction and real estate development. Lurvey has delivered, in varying roles, over $400 million of project volume. With sincere client collaboration, he offers the innate ability to define project scope, budget requirements and team assembly for overall project delivery and success. Specializing in cursory review of project deliverables has ensured over all client satisfaction throughout his career. Lurvey's current projects include the planning, development and construction oversight of a 70,000 square foot historic restoration and 85,000 square foot athletic/arts complex for the Diocese of Lansing, Michigan. He recently served as the Project Director of an 115,000 square foot state-of-the-art school building for the State of Michigan, Department of Education's, Michigan School for the Deaf.

Additionally, he also serves as President of D.W. Lurvey Co., and Vice President of Siwek Construction, both Flint, Michigan-based, full service construction management companies. His primary responsibilities include the overview of company operations, marketing and major project delivery. His resume includes a vast range of projects varying in size and complexity, and his ability to adhere to project budgets and schedules is exceptional. He holds membership in various professional organizations supportive of the design and construction industry. He holds Board and Strategic positions with local non-profits focused on economic growth, community stabilization and healthcare delivery.

As a stakeholder in the continued progression of his hometown, he opened Blackstone's, an upscale pub, in the heart of downtown, Flint, Michigan, in 2008. This vision continues to serve as a catalyst for the revitalization of the downtown restaurant and entertainment district.

Lurvey graduated from Lawrence Technological University where he studied architecture. He enjoys spending time with his wife, Heather, and their two children, Emma and Andrew. He enjoys watersports, youth golf instruction and vintage cars.
